The Event

Event Safety

In following British Orienteering Rules: "Competitors are responsible for their own personal safety and for assessing their own abilities to complete the course". The Event Management team have put in place reasonable risk management arrangements for the event to mitigate risks that competitors might not be reasonably aware of in undertaking orienteering activities.

Cannock Chase is undermined by old coal workings and is liable to subsidence. Care must be taken as new fissures can appear suddenly.

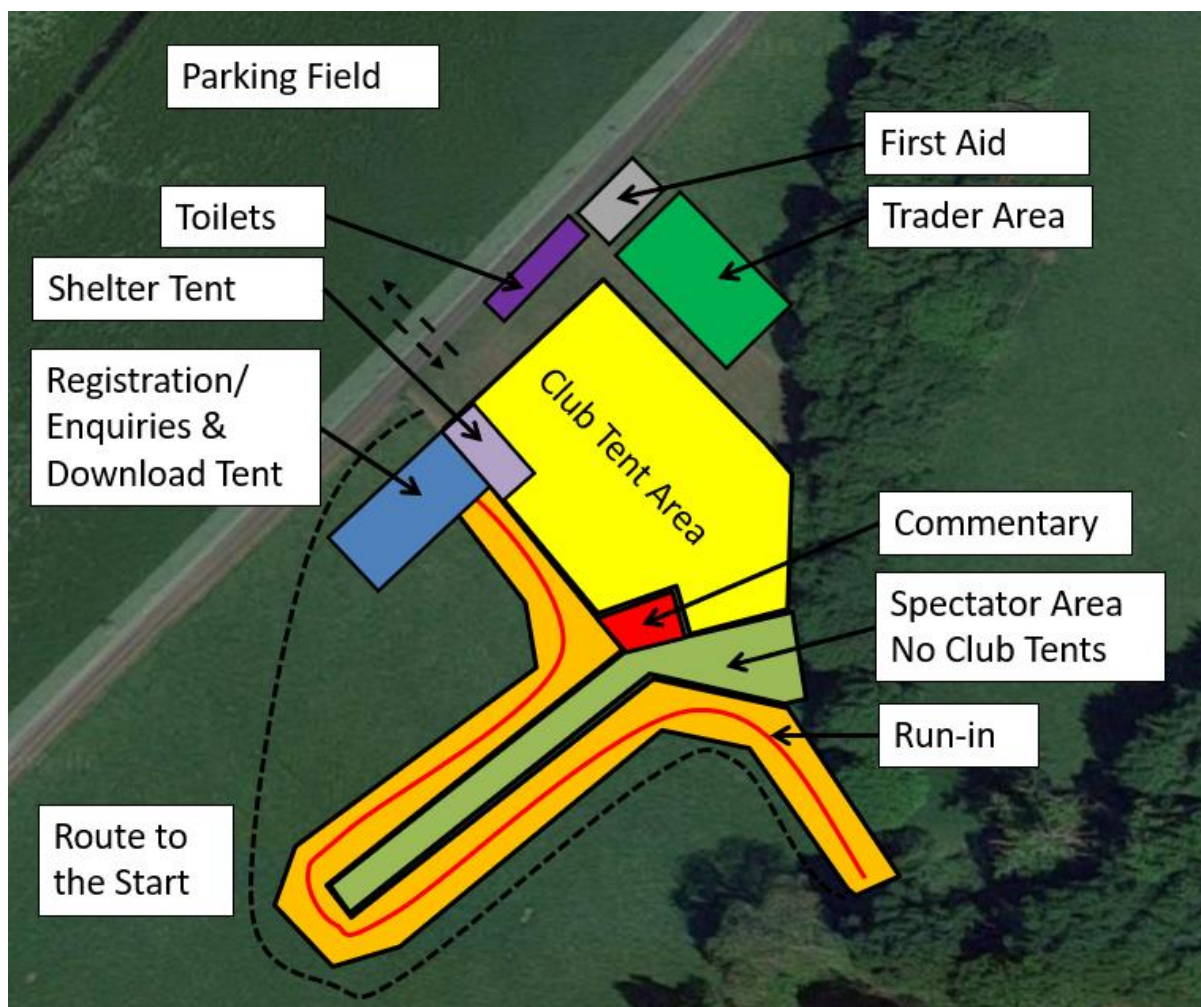

Competitors are forbidden to run along the public road to the north of the map. The forbidden routes are clearly marked on the map.

Please ensure that all competitors understand the risks of orienteering and that any additional information detailed in these Final Details is read and understood.

In the unlikely event of bad weather, changes to these details will be posted on the Walton Chasers Orienteering Club website and an email will be sent out to club captains.

Event Arena

Below is a layout of the event arena. This is subject to minor changes being made as required by landowners and other stakeholders:

A warm up area for competitors is available adjacent to the run-in and close to the event start. The start is approximately 400m walk into the forest from the assembly area.

Start

The start is a short walk (less than 400m) out of the assembly field into the forest. Please follow tapes to find the start area. All courses start from the same area.

Start times are from 1000 to 1400 and start times are pre-allocated by each club captain. Call-up to the start boxes is 4 minutes before your start time.

This event has a timed start. If you are late for your allocated start time, you will be asked to wait until a free time slot is available (which could be a significant period of time to comply with time separation rules). Please do not ask the officials to change your start time as they have no authority to do so. If you feel that the event organisation is at fault for the lateness please speak to the event organiser.

In the event of significant delays out with the competing club and event organiser's control (for example large scale traffic delays) clubs may be given the opportunity to rearrange the running order of their competitors. Any such reorganisation is at the organiser's discretion and should be agreed as early as possible to give time for the relevant changes to be made on the computer system.

Entry on the day courses will have a separate start lane and will use a punching start.

Finish

The event run-in and finish are located in the assembly field. Clubs are encouraged to pitch their tents near the run-in to cheer their fellow competitors along.

Details of the courses for the event are given below (subject to final controlling). Please note that a spectator control has been omitted from the planning of the event due to the layout of the terrain and proximity of the start and finish areas.

The Area

The area includes a mixture of coniferous plantation and deciduous natural woodland. It is well contoured with spurs and re-entrants in some areas and flat plateau in other sections. Bracken is variable and, in many places, reduces run-ability and visibility: White woodland generally has bracken cover but there are some clear patches.

Many mountain bike tracks have been added to the map, it's possible that activity by local mountain bikers will have added more. All tracks are in bounds but give way to cyclists.

Some undergrowth, typically for brambles, has been added to the map but do not rely on it for accurate navigation. As far as possible courses have been planned to avoid the worst areas of bracken, brambles and brashings. There will be some tracking advantage for later runners.

Extraction lanes are generally unmapped but may influence run-ability. Fungal disease, Phytophthora, is present in the area. In order to reduce the spread of the disease, some out of bounds areas are marked on the map but not on the ground. Where unbounded OOB areas are marked on the map, tracks and grass lanes through the areas are passable but please avoid corner cutting across areas marked OOB.

The area is actively managed and thinning and extraction may be taking places in some areas.

Other Information

Clothing

Full lower body cover is mandatory for the event. Arm cover is optional but at the competitor's risk. Competitors should check themselves for Ticks after their run.

Whistles are compulsory for the event and will be checked at the start.

The organiser reserves the right to insist that hooded waterproof jackets are carried. The decision on this will be made on the day and advised on signage in the event arena.

SI Boxes

Contactless (SI Air) and non-contactless punching will both be used in tandem at the event.

Please note that SI Air cards can be hired directly from SportIdent if you wish. Only older SI5 cards are available for hire at the event.

Download

Please ensure that you download after you have completed your race, even if you retire and do not finish your course.

Course Closing Time

All courses close at 1530. This is 100 minutes after the last start times. Please bear this in mind when allocating later start times in your club.

Map Collection & Reclaim

Maps will be collected from all course finishers before 1400 except those running the white and yellow courses. After the last competitors have started their runs, maps may be retained when finishing runs or collected from the registration and enquiries tent (collection by club captains only).

Other users of the Area

Please be polite and courteous to other users of the area. The area is known to be frequented by dog walkers, horse riders and mountain bikers.

Entry on the Day Courses

Entry on the day is available for three courses (White, Yellow and Light Green). Anyone wishing to compete in these non-championship courses should proceed to the Enquires and EOD section of the main event marquee to enter before proceeding to the start. Course fees for EOD are TBC.

Shadowing

Due to issues experienced in the past with adults shadowing juniors before running their own races, shadowing is not allowed in the CompassSport Cup & Trophy final.

Provided that the person shadowing is not competing in the CompassSport Cup or Trophy finals, they may shadow a runner on any of the Entry on the Day courses. The result for the person being shadowed will be declared unless the person shadowing declares the run non-competitive for whatever reason.

Complaints

Any competitor or official who feels the need to lodge a complaint regarding any competitor or any aspect of the organisation or planning is asked to speak to the event organiser at the earliest opportunity. This is so it may be given full consideration without unduly delaying any confirmation of results. In the event of a protest, a jury will be convened.

Prize Giving

The event Prize Giving for the event will be held as close to 1500 as possible (when the final result is known). The following people will be handing out the winner's trophy and mementoes for the first three clubs:

- Nick Barrable – Editor of CompassSport Magazine
- Jonathon Howell – Chairman of Walton Chasers Orienteering Club

Run-in Competition

As is traditional for the CompassSport Cup & Trophy final, a "Golden Boot" trophy will be awarded to the fastest male and fastest female run-in split (final control to finish).
